Hello! We look forward to your arrival!

We can hardly wait to meet you this summer, or during the orientation programs at the beginning of the fall semester.

Not only do we have great expectations for you, but we are excited to share the wonderful opportunities you'll have during your studies at the University of Florida in Gainesville, Florida! The Graduate School provides some excellent links from their website that you may want to begin exploring. Visit them online at http:// gradschool.ufl.edu/ students/ introduction.html. Links include information about living in Gainesville, costs, services, housing, financial aid, the graduate catalog, international student information, and much more. The University Office of Admissions also provides information to help you become better acquainted with UF. Visit http:// www.admissions.ufl.edu/ grad/ and follow the links under "Admitted Students." A complete listing of Admissions sites is available at http:// www.admissions.ufl.edu/ sitemap.html.

Final Transcripts

If you have just graduated, or did not send one previously, you are required to submit an OFFICIAL final transcript that includes ALL credit and grades earned for your bachelor's degree (and master's, if applicable). This transcript should also include the degree statement (which states what degree you earned in what program on what specific date). You will have a hold placed on your record and will be unable to register during the fall semester if the University of Florida does not receive this official final transcript.

You may email gradadmissions@arts.ufl.edu to confirm if we have the final, official transcript.

If you are just graduating this term, please be sure that the final grades and degree statement are posted on the transcript before having it sent—you can confirm this with your institution's registrar.

Please send your final, official transcript to:

Medical Immunizations

To attend the University of Florida you MUST complete the screening health history questionnaire AND show proof of immunity to measles (2 shots required) and rubella (1 shot required). In addition, students coming to UF from outside the United States must have a skin test for tuberculosis within six months of arrival into the U.S. You will receive a yellow Immunization Form from the Admissions Office. If you do not, or have misplaced your copy, you may review the policies (http://shcc.ufl.edu/medical/ immune.shtml) and access the form (http://shcc.ufl.edu/ medical/pdf/acl-002a.pdf) online.

If instructions on the Immunization Form were followed, clearance for registration should work smoothly. As a precaution, you should keep your own copy of the proofs and the form that you submit, and bring those with you. If your records are incomplete for any reason, you will be able to acquire necessary immunizations once you arrive on campus. If you mailed or faxed records, or have special questions or concerns, you may call 352.392.1161, and press '3' to reach the Immunization Clinic.

Your registration CANNOT proceed without completion of the Immunization form.

More on Student Health Services

The Student Health Service provides primary medical care, preventative medicine, health screening programs and mental health consultation and counseling. These services are available to all full-time students. The Student Health Care Center (SHCC), housed in the Infirmary (centrally located on campus), consists of an out-patient clinic and an in-patient unit.

A health fee is charged as a part of the tuition paid by all students—it is not health or accident insurance. This fee covers outpatient visits to the infirmary, some laboratory tests and some medications. If more complicated diagnostic study or hospitalization is required, additional charges are made.

GREAT NEWS!!! A health insurance benefit program is part of the salary and benefits package for all graduate assistants and fellows. Please read the information provided by the Office of Human Resources at http:// www.hr.ufl.edu/benefits/gatorgradcare/ default.asp.

Enrollment is NOT automatic—you will find enrollment information at the above website as well.

Students not on a graduate assistantship may also purchase health insurance sponsored through Student Government. Call the Insurance Office of the Student Health Care Center at 352.392.1161 x284, or visit them online at http:// www.shcc.ufl.edu/insurance.shtml.

UF's Gator 1 Card

The Gator 1 Card is the official picture ID for the University of Florida. It is required of all students and you may be denied university services if you do not have one.

To get your Gator 1 Card, go to the ID Card Services office, located in Room G071 of the UF Bookstore & Welcome Center (adjoining the J. Wayne Reitz Union). You will need a photo ID, such as a driver's license, military ID, or passport.

If you do not have a photo ID, you can go to Station #2 at the Registrar's Office in Criser Hall for a notarized statement affirming your identity. You will also need your Social Security card, military ID, insurance card, Selective Service card, or any document from the University that shows your Social Security number printed on it.

The Gator 1 Card costs $15, which can be paid by cash, check, debit, or credit.

For more information, visit http:// www.gator1card.ufl.edu, or call 352.392.8343.

Computer Sciences and Engineering Building

Computing Services

GatorLink is a computer ID and suite of services that allows access to a variety of UF campus computing resources. Every student is required to get a GatorLink ID.

Some free services are available to students; other campus services require a GatorLink sign-on to authenticate your identify, and there are some feebased services.

To set up your GatorLink account, visit http:// www.gatorlink.ufl.edu. You'll need your UFID number, which you can obtain at https:// was.isadmin.ufl.edu/webapp/ baiudufi2tSSNTranslator. Students are able to forward their GatorLink email address to any valid email address, on or off campus. Official correspondence from the University is sent via the Gatorlink email; students selecting the forwarding option are still responsible for regularly checking for any mail sent to their GatorLink email address.

Financial Aid—Student Loans

Students applying for loans and work through Student Financial Affairs (SFA) should understand that fee waivers are included in aid packages. You are responsible for notifying SFA of all such assistance you receive from any source. Receiving fee waivers affects eligibility for aid through SFA.

At the University of Florida, graduate students may apply for the following student loans: Federal Direct Stafford/Ford Loans (subsidized and unsubsidized); University of Florida Institutional Loans; and Federal Perkins Loans. These programs offer longterm, low-interest loans that must be repaid when the borrower graduates, withdraws, or drops to less than half-time enrollment.

In general, students may borrow up to the cost of attendance minus any other financial aid per academic year at interest rates from 5% to 8.25% annually. Some loans are based on financial need; others are not. The actual amount of each loan is based on financial need and/or program limits.

To apply, complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at http://www.fafsa.ed.gov. Students are advised to apply as early as possible, observing the deadlines posted at http://www.sfa.ufl.edu.

You should always seek financial aid advice from your assigned aid counselor, as requirements are complex and beyond the expertise of the college office. The key to a stress-free semester is to begin the semester with other funds (perhaps available credit that you can pay back when your aid is disbursed). To learn who your financial aid adviser is, visit http://www.sfa.ufl.edu/infoserv/ adviser.html

The Baughman Center, on the shore of Lake Alice

Check your financial aid status by logging on to ISIS: http:// www.isis.ufl.edu.

Financial Aid—Part-Time Employment

The University of Florida Office of Student Financial Affairs, located in S-107 Criser Hall, coordinates part -time on-and off-campus employment through the following three employment programs: Federal Work-Study, including the Federal Community Service component; Other Personnel Services (OPS); and offcampus jobs.

Federal Work-Study jobs are based on financial need; to apply, students should pick up a Gator Aid Application Guide and complete the online FAFSA.

OPS jobs are not based on financial need; to apply, students should go to the Student Employment Office (within the Student Financial Affairs office).

Off-campus job lists are posted on the job bulletin boards, and students simply need to contact the employers. SFA maintains job bulletin boards for all three programs on the Web at http://www.sfa.ufl.edu/programs/ studentemployment.html.

Computer Requirements

Access to and ongoing use of a computer will be required for all students to complete their degree programs successfully. The University of Florida expects each student to acquire computer hardware and software appropriate to his or her degree program. Competency in the basic use of a computer is a requirement for graduation. Class assignments may require use of a computer, academic advising and registration can be done online, and official university correspondence is often sent via e-mail. The UF Bookstore offers discount programs on Apple and Dell systems and software; for more information, visit their website at http:// www.bsd.ufl.edu/bookstore/.

Relocating to Gainesville—Housing and Services

On-campus housing is quite limited, so you are encouraged to submit applications to the Campus Housing Office early. See http://www.housing.ufl.edu/ for more information.

Most graduate students live off-campus. Off-campus information can be found at the Campus Housing website, or through the links below. Because parking on campus is extremely limited, you will be much happier if you find an apartment near campus, or near a city bus route. UF students ride free on all city buses (see http:// www.go-rts.com for more on city and campus routes).

Parking on Campus

Decals or permits are required for parking in all areas of campus between 7:30am and 4:30pm, Monday through Friday, unless indicated otherwise by signage. Decals may be purchased at the Transportation and Parking Services (TAPS) Office located at the corner of Gale Lemerand Drive and Mowry Road. Office hours are 8:00am to 4:30pm, with special extended hours during rush periods.

Please note that parking is EXTREMELY limited on campus, and purchasing a parking decal does not guarantee access to a parking space. It is highly recommended that you use an alternative form of transportation: many Gainesville roads are equipped with bicycle lanes,

Note: Students can park during break weeks on campus without a decal. The TAPS website posts information on when restrictions are lifted.

Emergency Contact Information

All students must provide the University with emergency contact information. This must also be verified and/or updated each semester before you can register for the upcoming term. To update your contact information, go to http:// www.isis.ufl.edu, and look for the "Update Emergency Contact Info" link under "My Record" in the left-hand menu. (Please note that you will be redirected to myUFL at this point.) Please take a moment to provide your emergency contact information before you meet with your advisor for registration.

The School of Music continues to grow in stature and influence in all of its disciplines. UF's School of Music was the first in the U.S. to host a session of the International Certificate for Piano Artists and the only one to have its Wind Symphony invited to the World Association of Symphonic Bands and Ensembles Convention in Singapore. The school's Clarinet Ensemble was the first student group ever invited to play at the International ClarinetFest and its choirs performed with several symphonies throughout the U.S. The school also hosts many internationally recognized festivals each year, ranging from the classical Steinway Piano Festival to the avant-garde Electroacoustic Music Festival. These events bring world-class performers in every discipline to the campus for performances, recitals, and residencies that benefit all members of the campus community, and especially students of the school.

The school's students are selected from among the nation's finest young musicians. The level of musicianship and academic accomplishment among faculty and students is very high. The scholarly and creative work of the school's graduate students and faculty is recognized throughout the world. Many faculty members also hold leadership positions on boards of directors of national and international music organizations.

UF at a glance

UF is a major public research university, one of the five largest in the nation. The state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive university, Florida is among the nation's most academically diverse.

Florida has a long history of established programs in international education, research, and service. The University is a community of outstanding faculty, talented students, and committed staff who learn and work in a stimulating and diverse intellectual environment. Total Number of Students: 52,271 (36,386 undergraduates; 15,885 graduate/professional students)

Minority Enrollment (African-American, Hispanic-American, Asian-American, and Native American): 14,354

International Students: 6,300

Ration of Men to Women: 47:53

Graduate Degree Programs: 262

Student Organizations: more than 700

In 1985, UF was admitted to the Association of American Universities (AAU), one of the most prestigious organizations in higher education. UF is the only school in Florida to be a part of AAU.

UF awards almost $68 million of financial aid annually: $32 million in student loans and $36 million in scholarships and grants.

The books in the UF Libraries can fill every seat in Ben Hill Griffin Stadium ("The Swamp") with 45 books. The Swamp seats 90,000 fans and is the fourth largest college stadium in the country.
